UNDERGROUND DELIVERY . . . That is what is planned at the stores of the South Bay Center, 174th St. and Hawthorne Blvd., as one of the many modern facilities designed to make shopping easier. All delivery trucks will use the underground passage, thus eliminating large vehicles in the parking area. The passage shown here is the exit onto 174th St. The underground entrance is on Hawthorne Blvd. at the east end of the Center. The 37-store unit will have its grand opening Aug. 22.

Winners of Poultry Ranch Awards of Merit Announced

As a result of last week's Poultry Ranch Merit Award judging, 59 poultrymen throughout Los Angeles County earned the right to display the much coveted Farm Bureau "Award of Merit" sign symbolic of neat, attractive and sanitary poultry ranches.

Sponsored by the Poultry Department of the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau, this voluntary public relations program started three years ago with a dual purpose in mind.

First, it calls attention to the desirability and importance of blending in with the modern community which in most cases has sprung up around his ranch long after his ranch was established. No longer is he living off by himself independent of other people's thoughts and feelings. Instead, he now has neighbors all around him, and must learn to consider them — to act like a neighbor.

Good Neighbor Gesture
On the other hand this program serves to point out to these neighbors and other groups of society that poultry ranchers can be good neighbors and good community citizens; that their establishments can be an asset rather than a liability; and that poultry ranches are not necessarily the only or even primary source of flies in the community.

The factors considered in judging include: First appearance of ranch, up to 5 points; ranch landscaping for appearance, up to 10 points; ranch landscaping to screen the unsightly poultry area from view—up to 25 points; general appearance of the buildings, up to 5 points; general appearance of the fences, up to 5 points; general appearance of the dive ways, up to 5 points; general appearance of the poultry area with respect to weeds, rubbish, grading, etc., up to 15 points; and finally the general sanitation conditions on the ranch, up to 30 points. Maximum score is 100, and all ranches receiving over 75 points qualified for a sign.

Voluntary Entry
Poultry ranchers voluntarily enter this annual judging of their ranches by signing an entry form and paying a $1 entry fee. The entry forms are distributed by the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau office.

The large and attractive faced metal "Award of Merit" signs remains the property of the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau, and must be earned each year by passing the annual judging or else will be removed from the poultryman's ranch. Financing of these signs has been largely through the generous cooperation of allied industries such as hatcheries, feed mills and stores, and poultry equipment suppliers. Their support has been a big factor in the success of this program.

Judging is done by a 3-man team of unbiased people who are not directly associated with the poultry industry, and consisting of a representative of the county health department or bureau of vector control; a local newspaper or radio representative; and a representative from a Chamber of Commerce of service club in the area.

Winners Named
Judges serving in the south area this year included Maro W. Heimerdinger Jr., Civitan Club of Torrance; Reid L. Bundy, Torrance Herald; Richard Rinaldi, county health department.

MAMMOTH RANCH
The King ranch at Kingsville, Tex., includes more than one million acres of land, making it the largest privately-owned domain in the U. S. It celebrated its 100th birthday in 1953.

TRUCK AVERAGE
There is about one truck for every 16 persons in the United States.
